Democratic Nominee For Congress,

HON. G. G. GILBERT,

Of Shelby County.

A NAVAL officer, whose name is when they were both young and lieutenants on the same ship, Sampson had some bananas stolen from his rcom. He accused a sailor of the theft and when he denied it had the surgeon to administer an emetic to make him throw them up, Schley came in about this time and seeing the poor fellow writhing in pain asked the cause. Being told he roundly denounced Sampson as a coward and finally slapped him. Sampson raged considerably, but did not accept Schley's offer to give him any satisfaction he might want. The memory of that affront still rankles in Sampson's bosom and he has done everything in his power to keep Schley down, and in his mean purpose seems to have had the assistance of the navy a limp. department and the president. But Schley wont down. He is a brave and chivalrous officer, as the incident in SAMPSON'S SLOTHFULNESS THE SUBhis early life indicates, and fate seems to favor him, if the authorities do SECOND AMERICAN FLEET ARRIVES AT frown on him. To him and not at all to Sampson is due the destruction of Cervera's fleet, notwithstanding the latter's egotistical dispatch to Washington on the 4th of July. The story of the naval officer may or may not be true, but it seems to express pretty well the character of the man. Another incident illustrative of Schley's magnanimity is given in a dispatch after the demolition of Cervera's fleet. The men were cheering with a "three times three" for him, when he said: "Thank you, boys, but I didn't do it. You are the boys who did it. Let the officers cheer the crew." Every officer joined in hearty cheers. These were repeated when the Commodore shout. hole and ripe for an awful epidemic. ed: "To the men behind the guns!"

I am and have been for two months located near the depot, having in possession the Vanderpool House. I have heretofore made no announcement nor solicited patronage as I have had to give things about the house a general overhauling. Thinking this work sufficiently done to be able to give first-class accommodations. I now solicit the patronage of the public, assuring them that espe-cial attention will be given them, so as to make them pleasant in every possible way.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF STANFORD, KY.

Capital Stock $100,000. Surplus, $15.750 Attention of the public is called to the fact that this is the only National Bank in Stanford. Under the provisions of the National Bank Act depositors are secured not only by the capital stock, but by the stockholders' liability for an amount equal in the stock so that depositors of this institution are secured by a furd—if $200,000. Five sworn statements of the condition of the Bank are made each year to the United States Government and its assets are examined at stated times by government.

assets are examined at stated times by government agents, thus securing additional and perfect salet agents, thus securing additional and perfect saletto depositors.

This institution originally established as the Deposit Bank of Stanford in 1858, then reorganized as the National Bank of Stanford in 1865 and again reorganized as the First National Bank of Stanford in 1882, has had practically an uninterrupted existence for 35 years. It is better supplied now wittacilities for transacting business promptly and liberally than ever before in its long and honorable
